M-W's Administration directs our growing population

Principal Robert M. Boyce shoulders the responsibility of keeping our large school complex running smoothly. To add to the normal problems, the teachers' contract dispute and school construction complicated the year.

As chief administrator, Mr. Boyce determines school policy based on the needs of the student body and then delegates authority to see that it is enforced within reasonable limits.

Ably assisting Mr. Boyce with this task are Mrs. Armistice White, Mr. Paul Richards, and Mr. Gene Frey.

M-W's administration contributes vitally to our maturing and planning.

Child developmental laboratory trains

The M-W Child Laboratory is a training center designed to give students an opportunity to learn to work with infants and pre-schoolers in an actual child care center setting.

Here, the emphasis is on participants observing child behavior, developing techniques in guiding children in play and learning activities, and entertaining children.

Students who successfully complete this program are encouraged to implement their learning and experience through the center's work-study program. A number of our students are employed at child nurseries around the city.

Student Ruby Bevele is in her role of Child Care Assistant.

'73 FOOTBALL TEAM. ROW 1--A. C. Wood, C. McLeMore, J. Smith, M. Parker, G. Whitfield, F. Chambers, C. Johnson, D. Sykes, D. Johnson. ROW 2--R. King, R. Womak, O. Steward, M. Fountain, K. Brooks, D. McDaniels, C. Grace, W. West, W. Burts. ROW 3--Coach Robert Dooley, H. Watkins, O. Martin, M. Rochelle, M. Thomas, C. Bracken, A. Jones, S. Stanford.

Despite the hard practice and long hours put in by the players, the gridders experienced a heartbreaking season, winning none. Coach Dooley attributes the team's performance to lack of experience in playing organized formation football.

This season's campaign revealed the problems the '74 team will have to correct.

Ostell Stewart has the ball; Sammie Sanford runs; Fred Chambers pulls guard; Ike Brooks blocks.

On the scene...Winston West, Chris Johnson, George Whitfield.

Edmond Parker, Derrick McDaniel (the Quarterback), Dennis Sykes, Ossie Martin, and Sammie Sanford all have their eyes on the football.

In hot pursuit of Michael Wilborn with the ball is a tackler from Chadsey's team.

Cagers post disheartening .250 season

The basketball team experienced a heart-breaking season, winning four and losing twelve. However, the team had great spirit despite the rough season.

The strain of upholding last year's regional championship record and the drain of experienced players combined to push our Pilots out of contention.

But, according to Coach George Duncan, our cagers are already in the process of preparing themselves to become a powerhouse next season.

The '73 squad was an inexperienced one, feeling a great loss from last year's graduation. Coach Duncan hopes that several outfielders from the junior varsity team will hold the key to this year's success.

In the action . . . Sharon Goldsby, Debra Hoyer, Monolettha Perry, Shirley Howard, Willodean Harris, Annette Ingram.

This season our Piolettes strengthened defense and offense and consequently, for the first time in M-W's history, dribbled their way into coveted State Tournament play. For this maneuver, the team was awarded the Good Sportsmanship Trophy in their division.

In Tournament play, the Piolettes were narrowly defeated by Cass Tech, 37-42.

Players dominating the team were Colby Lewis, Willodean Harris, Brenda Johnson Theresa Middleton (high pointer), and Ula King. Theresa and Ula were voted All-City.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, we were unable to get pictures of our winning team in progress; only, pictures of our winning team during scrimmage play. Please forgive us Coach Roberta Wishart and champion players!

Thinclads hope to better '73 performance

The track team looked promising during their practice sessions. But, for various reasons, when the regular season started, the sparks set to rouse them to victory failed to ignite properly. Our runners ended up placing third in the division.

Coach Dooley and the team are not discouraged, for this season's efforts revealed the problems that the '74 team will have to correct.

In the interest of school improvement, the members of the Student Government set up committees to tackle problem areas around the school. The group tackled such problems as the student exchange day controversy, teacher-student attitudes, and general school appearance.

By the end of the year it was evident that the slogan, "Student Government Lives" was true.

Mary White, M-W's WJLB Soul Teen Reporter, prepares to introduce U.S. Congressman John Conyers to an assemblage of students.

In its beautification drive, the Student Government sponsors a Clean-Up Session.

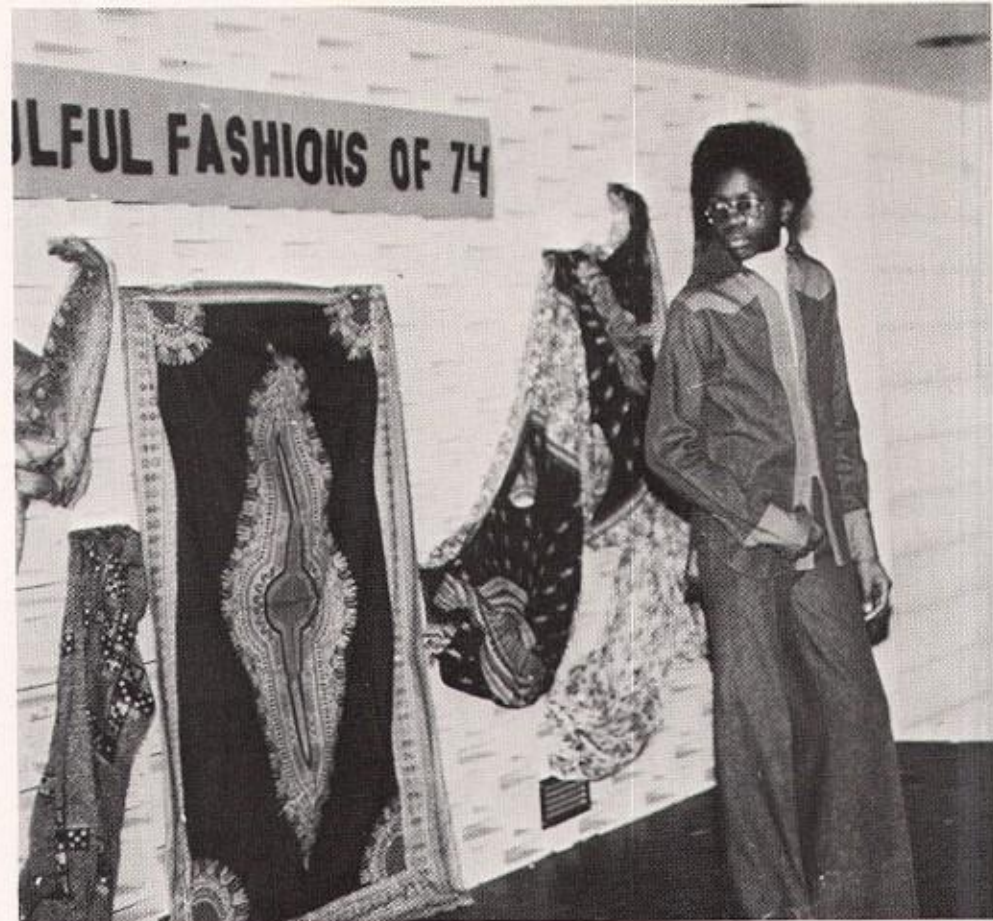

The entire school pitches in to help beautify Murray-Wright.

During this Student Exchange Day our visitors are from Libby High in Toledo, Ohio. SG hosts and hostesses are Kathy Lee, Wynetta Lucas, Mary White, Shandra Davis, and Bernard Sandlin, SG president.

DECA chapter attracts future retailers

DECA CLUB OFFICERS: Dennis Baker, president; Alonzo Travis, vice president; Vanessa Cornelius, treasurer; Diane Coleman, secretary; Lori Cherry, reporter; Larry Pettway, parliamentarian. Mrs. Suzanne Williams, advisor.

DECA, the Distributive Education Club of America, is a youth organization operating through the public schools to attract and prepare young people in careers in marketing and distribution. Murray-Wright's chapter, by now, is well-known over the state of Michigan for winning the Chapter of the Year Award the past couple of years.

Classroom learning, coupled with actual on the job (co-op) experience, has made D.E. a rewarding and meaningful experience for many of our students.

Drama . . . more than just a class

Drama is being yourself
showing the different sides of you working hard laughing at your mistakes
getting to know other people like yourself
sharing good feelings
building up your courage
holding your temper doing what you do best developing hidden talents and strengthening others understanding and learning to appreciate different forms of art from Beethoven to Deep Purple from a flower to a statue
from Shakespeare to Super Fly

Drama is opening night and you are scared.

Drama is being able to scream at someone when you are calm.

Drama is engaging in an old-fashioned "Laugh-In".

Drama is having lots of fun.

Drama is developing character--maybe your own.

FROM YOUR ARMY OPPORTUNITY CAREER COUNSELORS

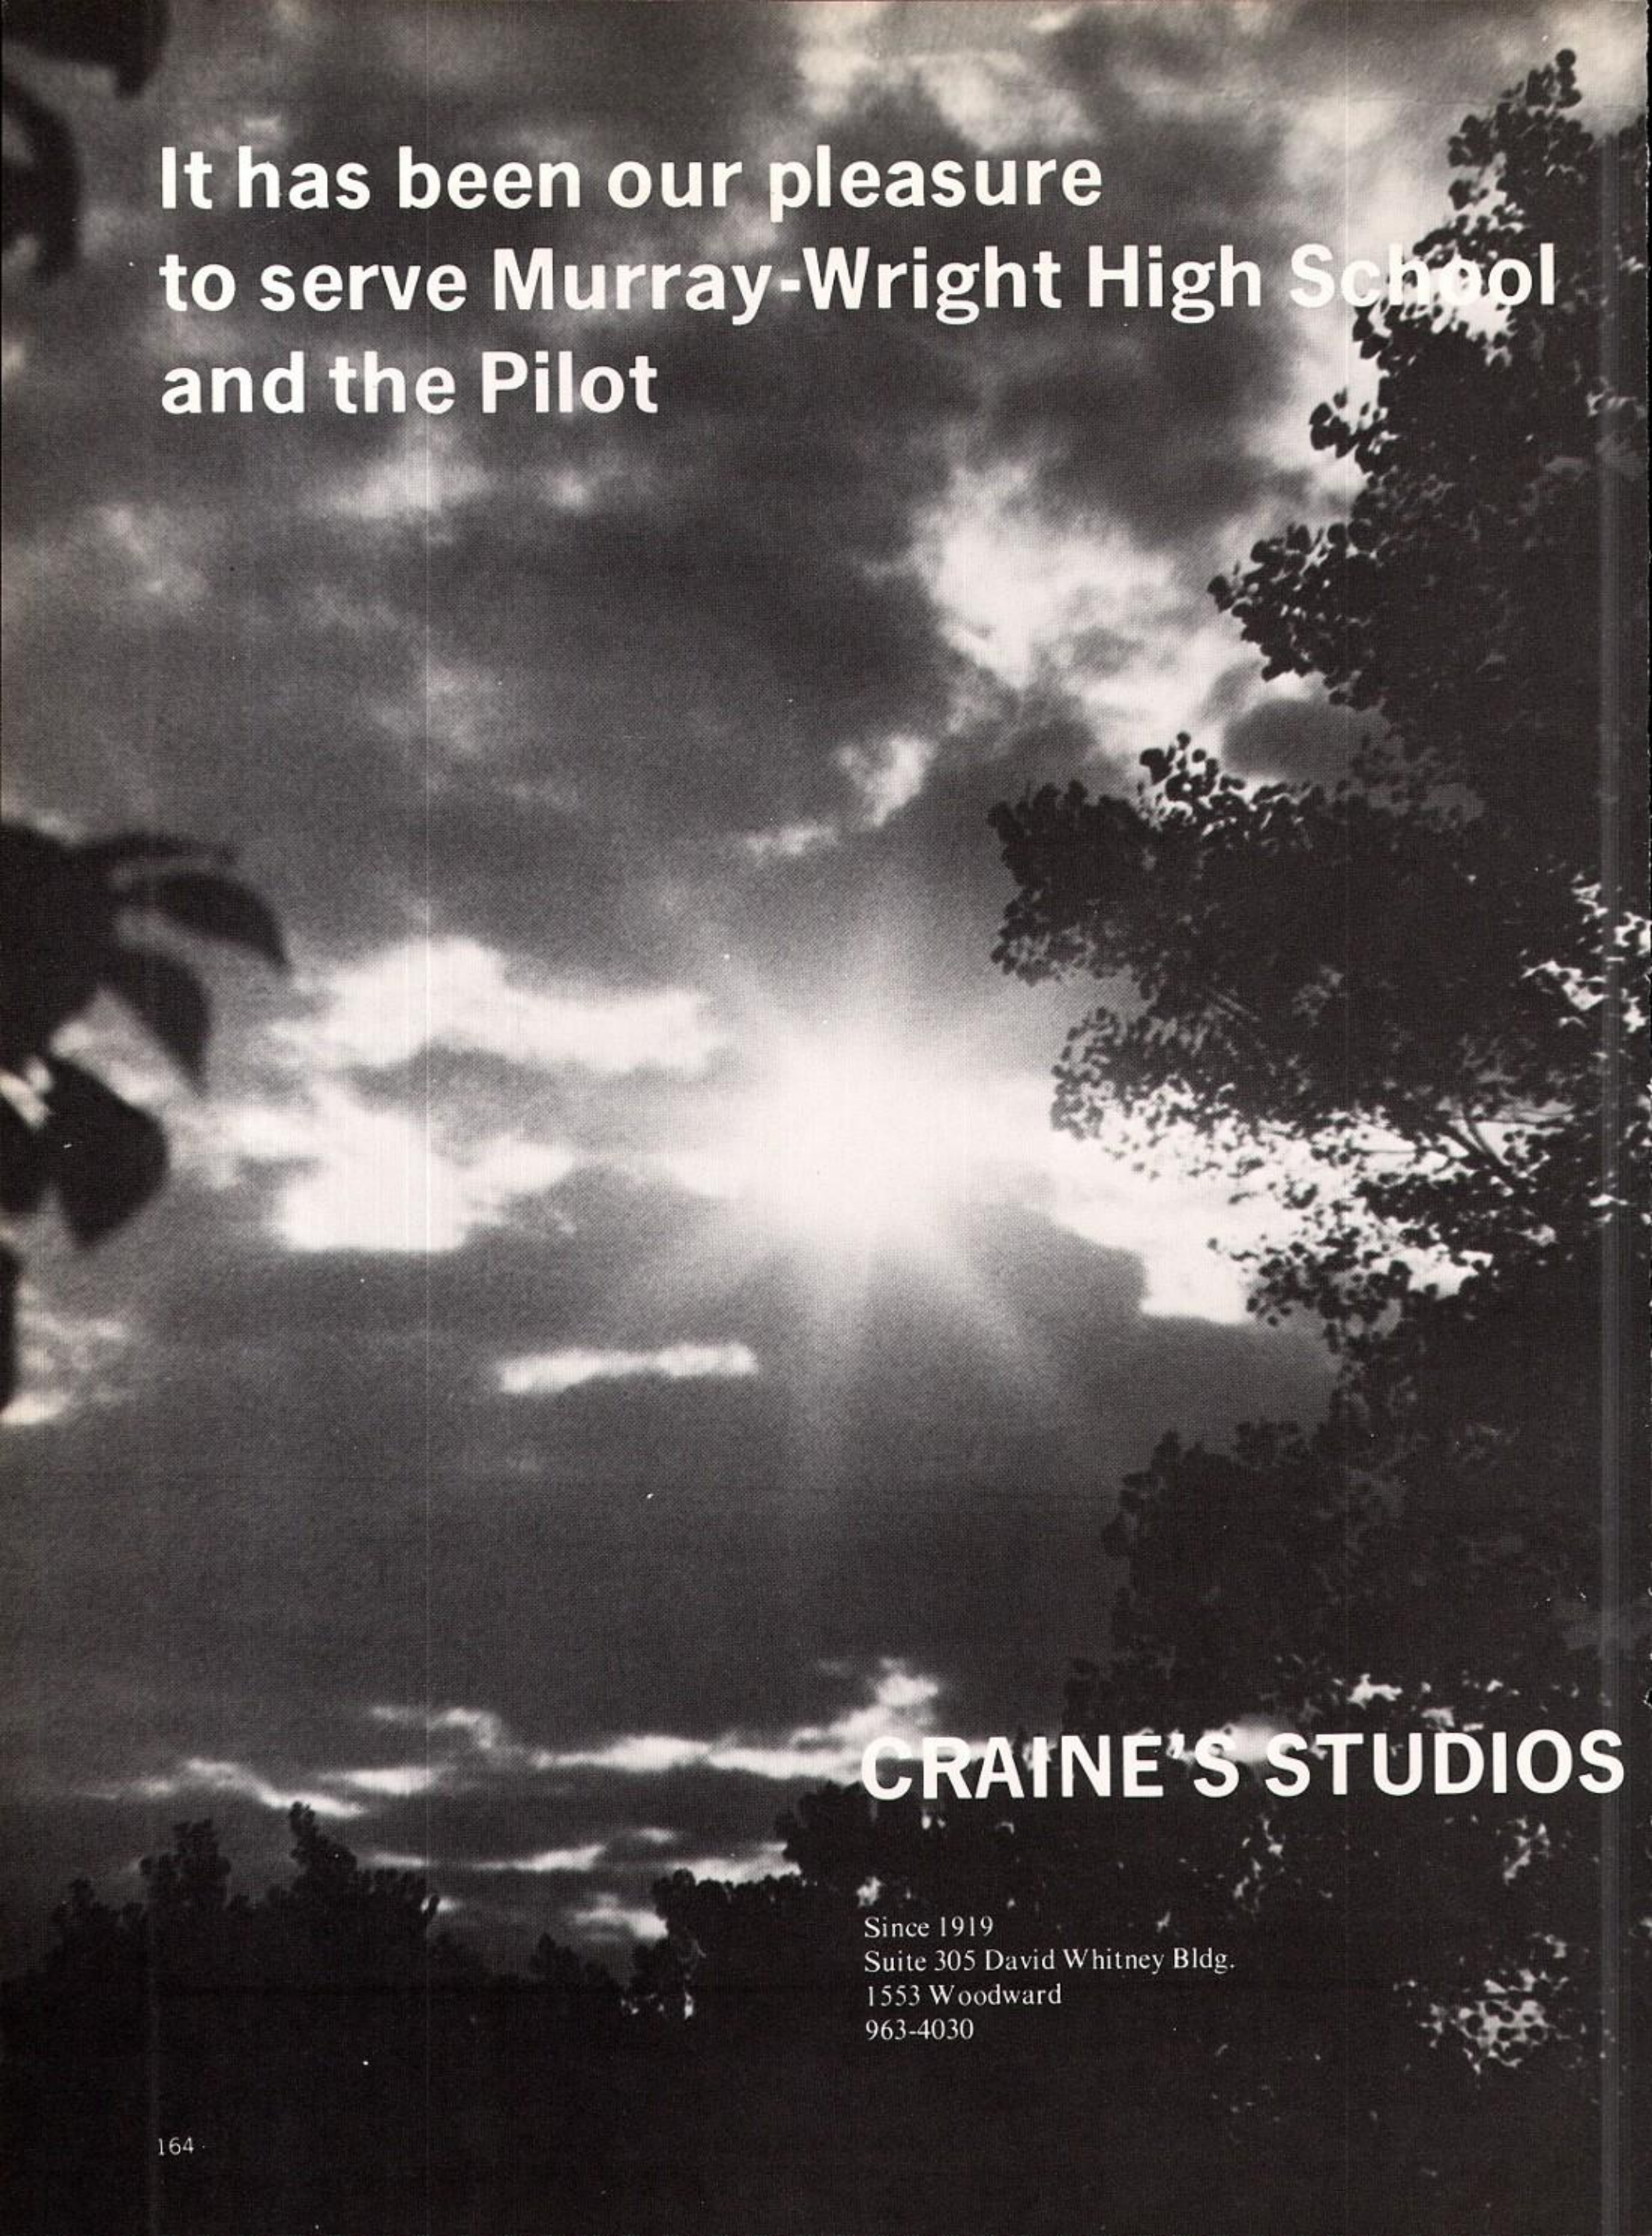

SSG (B.J.) Scott SSG (Russ) Horn SFC (Mickey) Lewis

BEATING THE TUITION CRUNCH

Several universities across the United States have entered a cooperative admissions program with the Army under which military personnel can earn college credit at the same time they enter the Army.

Under the Enlisted Civil School Program, an individual can take on-campus and correspondence courses towards a degree when he or she enlists in the Army.

The enlistee can also receive college credit for portions of Army Basic and Advanced Individual Training. Under the program, the Army will pay 75 percent of the costs for persons on active duty.
